REPORTS FROM THREE PLANES AFIELD IN B.C.

Gas From Well Flowing Wild Menaces Oklahoma City Waterway Project Will Open Markets For B.C. Products

Lumber and Coal From British Columbia Ports Will Be Landed in Unbroken Cargo, Via Panama Canal, in Middle of Continent for a Population There of 60,000,000, If St. Lawrence Development Is Put Through, Major G. W. Stephens Tells Canadian Club; He Explains in Detail Problems of All Kinds To Be Settled.

George Washington Stephens of Montreal, Canada's representative on the Saar Commission and in other international affairs, told members of the Victoria Canadian Club at the luncheon at the Empress Hotel to-day of the problems of the St. Lawrence Waterway Project, the construction of which, he declared, "will help to keep the lamp of our independence burning bright and clear."

"If the St. Lawrence is deepened to 27 feet, then the whole central part of the North American continent, with 60,000,000 people in it, will be opened up as a market for all the natural resources of British Columbia," Mr. Stephens said. "A ship would then be able to load your lumber and coal at any British Columbia port and go through the Panama Canal, up the St. Lawrence through the Great Lakes without breaking cargo."

His visit here as guest speaker of the Canadian Club is in connection with the tour he is making of the principal cities of Canada under the Association of Canadian Clubs, speaking before the clubs between Halifax and Victoria. He is the author of the chief book on the St. Lawrence Waterway Project.

GIVE PUBLIC CHANCE TO JUDGE
"I am not a politician or an engineer, but a student of the problem," Mr. Stephens said. "I accepted the invitation of the Canadian Club to bring before the Canadian public, through the Canadian Clubs, the essential facts of the problem so that that man in the street can come to his own conclusions about it. It took me sixteen months of intensive research to get at the truth myself."

"From an engineering point of view, after ten years of investigation, and on the evidence of every technical service to which the proposals have been submitted, the scheme has been declared to be practical, to be of economic advantage and of public utility."

"It has been declared necessary to meet the industrial expansion of both Canada and United States."
GIVE 1,600,000 NEW HORSE POWER
"If the United States undertakes to construct at her own expense power and navigation facilities in the international Rapids Section and through the intercommunication channels between the Great Lakes and Canada undertakes to construct the eleven miles of necessary canal from Montreal to Beauharnois, deepens the ship channel in Lake St. Louis and Lake St. Francis, the St. Lawrence Waterway can be opened for navigation from the ocean (Concluded on Page 2)

WATER APPEALS BEFORE BOARD

North Okanagan and Vernon Schemes to Be Passed Upon Soon

Three new applications for water rights in British Columbia announced for the first time yesterday bring the number up to six for which hearings will be set by the Water Board.

Two of the applications are made by the West Canadian Hydro Electric Corporation, Limited, of Vernon. In the first the corporation applies for a license for the storage of 20,000 feet of water out of the Shuswap Lake, the storage dam to be located near the outlet of Mabel Lake. It is proposed to create a reservoir of 14,500 acres capacity, the water to be diverted from the stream at a point one mile and a half below Mabel Lake. It will be used for power purposes, to serve the north Okanagan district.

Also to serve the north Okanagan district, the same corporation applies for a license to use 550 cubic feet per second of water out of the Spallumcheen River draining into Mara Lake, a branch of the Shuswap Lake. The third new application listed is that of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway Company, applying for the approval of plans to divert water for a power-house on the Lillooet Indian Reserve. The company seeks to divert water from Sefton Lake Creek. The other applications listed are those of the city of Vernon. Water from Vance Creek to create a reservoir of seventy-seven acre feet for the waterworks undertaking of the city is sought. In connection with the same undertaking Vernon also seeks permission to take 500,000 gallons of water daily out of B.X. Creek, flowing into Swan Lake, and to take fifteen acre feet out of Vernon Lake to create a storage dam at the south end of Vernon Lake.

Ballantyne, Ontario Labor Deputy Minister, Cannot Explain Taking Woman's Dress

Toronto, Oct. 31.—Hon. J. D. Monteth, Ontario Minister of Labor, yesterday announced James H. Ballantyne, Deputy Minister of Labor, arrested yesterday evening on a charge of theft in connection with the removal of a woman's dress valued at $15 from a local lingerie store, had been suspended from his post. Mr. Ballantyne was released on bail of $200 pending his appearance in court to-day. When Ballantyne appeared in police court this morning he was remanded till November 3 on bail of $200.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—"I do not know what made me do it," said James H. H. Ballantyne, Deputy Minister of Labor of Ontario, when interviewed this morning following his arrest yesterday evening on a charge of theft of a woman's dress valued at $15 from a downtown store. "The truth is I did take a dress," said the Deputy Minister, "I cannot explain why the impulse came on me. The thing was done in a few seconds. Evidently the store clerk saw me do it and telephoned the police, and when they came to interview me I stated I had taken the dress. I had more than taken the dress."

CANADIAN MISSION ARRANGES BIGGER WHEAT SALES IN JAPAN

Tokyo, Japan, Oct. 31.—A number of valuable suggestions for gradual enlargement of wheat imports by Japan from Canada were made to-day at a conference of Japanese wheat importers with the touring trade delegation of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. The was the general opinion there were good prospects for the growth of this trade. Hon. Herbert Marler, Canadian Minister to Japan, to-day gave the last of three group luncheons at the Canadian legation, which prominent Japanese business men and members of the delegations attended. Baron Mitsui, Japan's wealthiest and biggest business man, entertained the delegation at a garden party.

NO FIRES ARE ALLOWED NEAR OIL GUSHER

Schools Closed in Oklahoma City While Great Oil Well Flows Uncontrolled

Clouds of Gas Cover Low-Lying Parts of City; Troops Aid Police

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 31.—Adjutant-General Charles F. Barrett to-day ordered out several units of the Oklahoma National Guard to assist civil authorities in policing the fire danger area surrounding the gigantic No. 1 Stout well, flowing wild on the southeast edge of the Oklahoma City wholesale district.

SCHOOLS CLOSED
Oklahoma City, Oct. 31.—Flowing an estimated 60,000 or more barrels of oil and 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, a wild gusher at the southeast doorstep of Oklahoma City threatened residence and business districts to-day. The fire hazard resulted in closing of schools, breakfastless, fireless homes and traffic blockades.

The chief danger of fire lay in great clouds of gas which hung in lowlands surrounding the well. As a slow southeast wind sprayed business and residential districts with oil, rigid no-fire regulations were enforced in homes south of Seventh Street. Hope of removing the fire hazard rested with an increase in the wind.

The well, No. 1, C. E. Stout of the Morgan Petroleum Company, is located on the Canadian River bank, just east of the city limits, less than a mile from the heart of the downtown shopping district. "Extreme police power" in enforcing no-fire regulations over a danger area of two miles square was being exercised to-day by state fire inspectors under State Fire Marshal C. R. O'Neil.

Plans For Air Service To Continue

It is not likely that plans of the Pacific International Airways Limited to inaugurate a triangular air service between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle will be completely halted by failure to gain shoreward rights in Victoria Harbor for a seaplane base. It was learned to-day from J. A. Campbell, solicitor for the company, in Vancouver.

Mr. Campbell communicated with Edward A. Lowe Jr., president of the company, with regard to the Federal action, and has received word that the "situation will be taken care of." Although a base cannot be established on the chosen site, Mr. Campbell did not think that the action would halt the company's plans for an air service. Further developments in the matter are expected when Mr. Lowe arrives from San Francisco next week.

North B.C. Region Holds Secret the Fate of Burke Trio While Planes Delayed

RAIN DURING OCTOBER FAR OVER NORMAL

Fall of 4.84 Inches Since October 1 Is 2.11 Inches Above Average For Month

Though Rain Since Jan. 1 Has Been Less Than Usual, Year's Fall Exceeds 1929

Victoria has experienced an unusually heavy rainfall during October, according to figures released to-day by F. Napier Denison, of the Gonzales Meteorological Observatory. Since the first of the month 4.84 inches have fallen, which is 2.11 inches above the average. Only twice since 1874 has this total been surpassed. In 1906 the rainfall was 5.6 inches, and in 1910 it was 5.09 inches. In spite of the abnormality of October, the total rainfall since January 1 of 16.17 inches is 1.19 inches below the average. If 1930 is to be a normal one, Victoria must have at least ten inches of rain during November and December, however, this year's total of ten months is only slightly over half an inch behind the 17.29 inches that fell during the whole of 1929.

For the thirty days since October 1, Old Sol has beamed upon Victoria for 126 hours and twenty-four minutes, which reveals a benevolence slightly less than the average for the month. However, it is possible that the eight-hour deficit will be made up partially to-day.

The mean temperature for the present month is 49, which is two below the average. On the top of the hill, the high for the month was 61, which occurred on October 3, and the low was 36, which occurred on October 16. In the sub-station on Fairfield Road, the low on October 16 was 28, and a thermometer placed on the grass at sea level went to 23 on the same day.

POPPY MAKING BIG BUSINESS FOR VETERANS

Provides Helpful Work For Disabled Ex-Soldiers

The importance of the wreath and poppy business to the disabled veterans engaged in their fabrication is indicated by the expansion of that department of the Red Cross Workshop during the last four years.

In 1927, 65,000 poppies and 200 wreaths were made, which increased to 268,930 poppies and 1,012 wreaths in 1929, all of which were disposed of. This year 350,000 poppies and 1,300 wreaths have been prepared. The value of the poppy as a medium for assisting disabled veterans is apparent to all who are interested in the workshop, where they are made. It is a work specially suited to men with weak and ailing bodies, and the steady (Continued on Page 2)

NEW RULE TO KEEP TAB ON LIQUOR STOCK

Inspectors Will Have Right to Enter B.C. Distilleries on Demand

Stringent Regulation Added to Government Act, Announcement Says

Stringent regulations aimed to prevent the distribution of liquor and beer in British Columbia through any other channels than those prescribed by the Liquor Control Board and calling for the appointment of inspectors with power to enter distilleries on demand to check up on distributions, have been drawn up by the Liquor Control Board, approved and added to the Government Liquor Act, as regulation 39, it was announced to-day.

CLOSE CHECK
The regulation is drafted with the object of making impossible the movement of any liquor in the Province without the knowledge of the board. It provides that no liquor shall be taken to a distillery other than by common carrier by rail or water, unless a serially numbered delivery slip is made out in quadruplicate. Any person in charge of a truck transporting liquor must present one of the forms which give details of his load and the place to which it is destined, or to which he has made deliveries on demand of one of the inspectors named under the Government Liquor Act. The regulation also calls for returns of the signed slips of delivery from the carrier and the distillery.

GIVEN WIDE POWERS
Another clause gives power to inspectors to enter distilleries and check over supplies. It calls for distillers to admit an inspector or any other official designated by the board for the purpose, to all parts of the distillery for the purpose of making inspections and for the purpose of checking the accuracy of returns made to the Liquor Control Board. Beyond inspect books, documents and records kept and check on all liquor in the distillery. The owners of the distillery are called upon to help the officer in his inspection. One form calls for a driver of a vehicle to be furnished with a form containing his name and a list of the liquor he is distributing and specifying the points to which it is to be delivered. Another calls for a statement from the distillery of all shipments made each week.

BROMLEY BACK TO-NIGHT AFTER FLIGHT FAILURE

Pacific Flier Returns From Japan Aboard President Jefferson

Unsuccessful again this year, but still determined to make an air hop across the North Pacific Ocean, Lieutenant Harold Bromley, native son of Victoria, will arrive here aboard the liner President Jefferson from Japan to-night. The Jefferson's due about 7 o'clock. Lieutenant Bromley will spend the evening here with his relatives, and will proceed with the Jefferson to Seattle at 2.30 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Bromley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bromley of Frances Avenue, with his wife and small son will be at the dock this evening to meet the aviator. Mrs. Bromley Jr., and her son arrived in the city to-day from Tacoma, and will return to Seattle with Lieutenant Bromley. Joyfully anticipating their son's return although, of course, a little disappointed that he failed to make the flight, Mr. and Mrs. Bromley awaited arrival of the liner. The flier's small son was in a high state of excitement at the prospect of seeing his daddy again after several months. Lieutenant Bromley's mechanic and navigator, Harold Gatty, was unable to leave Japan with Bromley, as he was still suffering from the effects of gas poisoning, which he received when the gas tanks on the plane City of Tacoma broke when the fliers were off the coast of Japan on their last take-off. When nearly 2,000 miles out across the Pacific they were forced to turn back to Japan because of this accident. The plane is now stored in Tokyo. Gatty will return to Seattle as soon as he is released from medical treatment. Bromley remained with him in Japan until he was well on the way to recovery.

WORK MAY BE FOUND SOON FOR IDLE LOGGERS

Vancouver, Oct. 31.—Plans to send 5,000 or 6,000 unemployed coast loggers back to camps in the woods during the present period of depression are under consideration by the B.C. Loggers' Association. It is announced by R. V. Stuart, manager of the organization.
Final assistance toward the scheme will be sought from the Provincial Government, and a delegation will go to Victoria probably early next week to ask provincial aid from relief funds.
Already the plan has been informally submitted to civic officials.
At present there are about 7,000 loggers in the city, although very few have registered at the city offices for relief work.

B.C. ELECTION WITHIN YEAR IS PREDICTED

selves to blame if that happens through their not taking advantage of this by-election opportunity to show Premier Tolmie they demand completion of the road from North Vancouver to Prince George and nothing less," he said.
Scrapping of the railway service between North Vancouver and Whistler by the Tolmie government was clear evidence of a policy to scrap all of the existing line not required for direct connection from Queen to Ashcroft, Mr. McGeer said.
If the line should come into Vancouver, tapping the Peace River district, by way of Ashcroft, the people of Vancouver city would not complain. The only losers would be the people of the North Shore, declared Mr. McGeer.
"Reorganization of the Tolmie Cabinet" on the eve of this by-election is an admission of the total failure of the government in the last two years. I submit it is going to be just as reckless and imprudent and is going to make as great a failure of the P.G.E. problem as of everything else," Mr. McGeer said.

PREDICTION BY FARRIS

Mr. Farris said:
"The time to strike is now. At the present government is a blow it has failed in all its high promises. Elect Mr. Braggman next week and within a year you will be re-electing him and he will be supported by a Liberal administration, of which he is sure to be a cabinet minister. Rebellion within its own party makes it certain the Tolmie government dare not face more than one more session."

HIS POSITION KNOWN

George Martin, speaking as a business man who had known Alderman Braggman for many years, held that electing North Vancouver should support the man who had always been and was now more than ever insistent on completion of the P.G.E. "You have no assurance of any kind from Premier Tolmie or his government as to what they propose doing," he said.
Alderman Braggman, who arrived while the meeting was in progress, declared he had no fear as to the outcome of the poll. He had spoken earlier in the evening at Lynn Valley with A. E. Munn, P.M., and Dr. Neil Macdonald, and at the Capilano Tea Rooms with Mr. Farris and Hon. Ian MacKenzie, M.P.

TOLMIE SPEAKS

North Vancouver, Oct. 31.—Premier Tolmie spoke at a meeting in the Horticultural Hall here yesterday evening in support of Alderman J. Loutet, Conservative candidate in the provincial by-election in North Vancouver set for November 5. The new Minister of Finance, Hon. J. W. Jones, also spoke. Speaking at the P.G.E. Railway, Premier Tolmie said his government had bent its best efforts to "trying to get rid of this incubus" to one of the two National Railway of Canada, but in view of the fact the railways were having a difficult time this year there were great difficulties in the way.
The negotiations were now at a delicate stage, he said. "This is why it is not my purpose to disturb the situation by any large expenditure at this time," he declared. "If we can make a deal all the better."
"If we fail then we can take up the other problems later on—whether to complete it and run into the Peace River. This has to be considered in the light of the times and whether they improve or not."

LARGE GRAIN COMPANY HAS HEAVY LOSS

Alberta Pacific Co. Dropped Over $2,750,000 in Year, State Directors

Meeting of Shareholders Called at Calgary to Reduce Capitalization

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Oct. 31.—A loss of more than nine and three-quarter million dollars for the year ended June 30, 1930, is shown in the fourth annual report of the directors of the Alberta Pacific Grain Company, made public here today.
The annual meeting of the company will be held November 18 at the Calgary offices of the company and a special meeting of the company is also called for that date for the purpose of reducing the capital of the company from $5,412,354.78 to $4,000,000 by cancelling $1,412,354.78, which is not now represented by available assets. This will be done without diminishing the number of 30,000 fully paid shares of seven per cent cumulative preference stock or the number of 80,000 class A common shares no par value or the 80,000 shares class B common stock, also without par value.

application which they bring to bear upon the task is proof of the mind-escape which accompanies production effort.
All the poppy makers suffered grievously in the country's service. Their enfeebled bodies tell to all who have eyes to see the story of their courage and acceptance of a burden they carry through life. "The sturdy frames and rugged health which they brought to the aid of the empire in its hour of need, belong to the past. The courage which they bring to bear upon their afflictions is a courage greater than that which carried them through the hell of war and into the enemies' line," says an official of the Red Cross and Armistice Drive.

This year the payroll for the wreath and poppy making exceeded $4,000, and from ten to twelve men have had constant employment.
The Red Cross Workshop is a distinctly local undertaking which comes under the direct care of the Victoria branch of the society. In addition to poppy making, the forty-four veterans employed in the workshop do woodwork, basket work, metal work, upholstery, picture framing and other kinds of work. In 1929 total sales for the year amounted to $39,985, and wages paid exceeded $29,000.
Veterans are among the greatest admirers of the service rendered by the Red Cross, and in order that it may be very straight and decent fellow. His activities in the department have always been regular. This is a ghastly business and I simply cannot credit

STATEMENT BY VICTOR
"This is a great blow to opponents of Empire free trade and to those who believe in the adoption of it. We are afraid to adopt it," said Admiral Taylor.
Sir Herbert Liddard, regular Conservative candidate, declared: "I have been beaten by the most intensive press campaign of abuse and misrepresentation ever known in any by-election in our political history."
SUPPORTER TAYLOR
The result was as great a disappointment to Labor as to the official Conservatives, for Labor hoped to profit by the split in the Conservative vote.
ATTITUDE OF BEAVERBROOK
But the by-election's dominant result was the victory of the press magnates under the Conservative leader, when Sir Stanley Baldwin was sustained in the party leadership yesterday Lord Beaverbrook was the only man at the party gathering who declined to approve the fiscal policy enunciated by Sir Baldwin before the vote on the leadership.
"I am not concerned about the party leadership, but I am prepared to support any one who will carry out Empire free trade" said Lord Beaverbrook.

R-101 INQUIRY PLANNING TO TOUR SOUTH AMERICA

Man Who Was in Charge of Motor Tells of Last Moments of British Dirigible
London, Oct. 31.—Engineer A. J. Cook, injured survivor of the R-101 disaster, to-day presented a graphic picture of the ill-fated dirigible's last moments to the commission inquiring into the loss of the airship near Beauvais, France, October 5.

His arm in a sling and still under hospital treatment, Cook told how the ship went into a steep dive and struck the ground with terrific force. A second crash came and then a mighty explosion, which rent the great air liner from stem to stern and took forty-eight lives.
Cook told the commission he was in charge of the fourth unit engine from Flight from 8 till 11 on the night of the fatal flight, and had resumed duty at 2 o'clock in the morning, a few minutes before the crash.

STOPPED MOTOR AFTER CRASH

He said he first had noticed something was wrong when the airship took a "slight dive" and the engine room control rang for speed. "As I turned the engine to slow," he said, "the ship took a steep diving attitude. I took a quick look out of the window and as I did so the ship struck the ground. I stopped my engine instantly and a second crash came, followed by an explosion."
Cook said he had a feeling something was happening after receiving the order to slow down, as the dirigible had been running at cruising speed for such a long period.

CANADA-FRANCE TRADE TREATY TO BE CHANGED
Wheat Feature of Discussion Started While Premier Bennett in London
By GEORGE HAMBLETON, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
London, Oct. 31.—Canada is casting around for new markets for her wheat. Conversations have been opened, it was learned to-day, which will probably lead to revision of the trade treaty between France and Canada.
France, hard hit by the new high United States tariff, is anxious to retain and, if possible extend her markets in Canada. While official circles preserve the strictest silence it is understood France has made an approach to the Canadian delegation to the Imperial Conference, with a view to opening formal trade negotiations.

Boyd and Connor, Fliers, Visit Berlin
Berlin, Oct. 31.—The staunch monoplane Columbia, twice conqueror of the Atlantic, made its second visit to Berlin to-day, this time bearing Capt. J. Errol Boyd, Toronto pilot, and Lieut. Harry P. Connor of the United States, now on a tour of Europe.
The last time the Columbia came here was in 1927, when Clarence D. Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine crossed the Atlantic and landed some distance from Berlin, continuing on to the German capital later.

COOLIDGE IS HEARD IN U.S.
ELECTION TESTHe Urges Voters to Return
Republicans in Federal and State Polling Nov. 4

Springfield, Mass., Oct. 31.—Calvin Coolidge emerged from the obscurity of private life for five minutes yesterday evening and defended in a radio address the efforts of the Republican administration to cope with the business depression. In his address, designed chiefly for Massachusetts voters, he urged the election of the Republican candidates in this state as Governor and United States senator.

Speaking under the auspices of the state Republican committee, the former President urged the re-election of Governor Frank G. Allen and the election to the United States Senate of his former campaign manager, William Butler.

"There is no time for rash experiments on men or measures," he said. Commenting on criticism of President Hoover to relieve unemployment, he declared it was the duty of all citizens, and "particularly all public officers, without respect to party, not only to co-operate but to refrain from groundless and reckless statements which can only retard the return of that public confidence so necessary to increased prosperity."

"I am not going to discuss issues with you," Mr. Coolidge said. "I already have been possible to learn about them from the candidates and the press. Besides, issues have a way of disappearing after a campaign and never coming up for discussion."

"There will be new problems arising that have not now been thought of or discussed."

EXPERIENCE NEEDED

"The more I have seen of public office, the more I am inclined to rely on experience. The conduct of an important governmental position cannot be entrusted to the inspiration of the moment. The great success that has marked the conduct of affairs of this commonwealth by the Republican Party over a long series of years has been due to its rigid adherence to this principle."

"It has trained up its important office holders through various stages of experience until they have become experts in public administration. By this same process it has tested out ability and character. Those who are deficient in intention and discretion do not meet this severe trial year after year and, therefore, are discarded. Those who remain we can very safely conclude by reason of their experience and proved ability and character are worthy of our confidence and support."

"We have a world-wide depression in trade. It has been due to a combination of causes which no one yet comprehends. There has been revolution in China, economic chaos and grave disturbances in India, so that one-half the population of the globe has been turned into a financial liability. South American states have been in revolt. These have had their influence. But probably we are going through that secondary reaction which has usually followed the first revival after great wars."

The elections will be held November 4.

NON-PAYMENT OF TAX BILLS
LEADS TO SALESCattle, Crop and Goods of Resisting Natives in India
Auctioned Off

Bombay, Oct. 31.—Non-payment of the taxes of the peasants of the civil disobedience platform, appears to be gaining ground in some sections of India.

India National Congress reports say 50,000 peasants of the Bardoli region have left their homes, resolved not to pay land taxes until Swaraj, or home rule, is established. Many left their household goods, cattle and crops behind, the government confiscating and auctioning them off.

The peasants are said to have for their slogan, "No Swaraj, No Revenue." The leaders of the movement declare the peasants do not desire to evade payment, but simply will not pay until Mahatma Gandhi's demand for "No Revenue" is met.

The Congress characterizes the peasants' action as "an unrivaled example of a migration movement on the part of people who are resolved to forfeit their all in the interest of the Gandhi cause."

MAJORITY ARE FARMERS—The Bardoli district has an area of about 222 square miles, containing 123 villages, with a total population of 88,000, of whom 82,000 are rural. The annual land revenue exceeds $135,000.

The government says many villages have held all their arrears and that throughout the district only twenty-five peasants have resisted payment altogether, dwellers of the villages merely having gone elsewhere to await developments.

A majority of the villagers are being assisted by persons from the neighboring villages in Bardoli state territory, the peasants' procedure being to stay in Bardoli state all day and return to their homes in British India at night and remove whatever they can to the property which will not be confiscated by the revenue collectors.

The Congress reports also say peasants of the Jambusar region and other regions are evacuating their villages and refusing to pay the land taxes.

NEW MILK ACT
FOR CANADA IS NOW SUGGESTED

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—That provisions similar to those of the United States Import Act would ultimately prove of the greatest benefit to Canadian producers and the dairy industry at large if they were generally applied throughout Canada, is the opinion of Dr. Geo. Hilton, veterinary director general. A report by him on the health of animals branch for the last fiscal year was made public yesterday.

No doubt this opinion and the far reaching effect it would have if converted into a law of the land will be given much consideration at the next session of Parliament.

The report sharply criticizes some plant managers. "All possible measures have been taken to persuade plant owners and producers to put into effect any necessary changes to insure a clean, wholesome product," he says.

"One of the most surprising features in the enforcement of these regulations has been the attitude of a few plant managers. Although men of long experience in the dairy business and representing reputable companies, they have increased our difficulties by discouraging their patrons in the taking of measures which experience should have long convinced them were very necessary for a sound quality product."

"There are at the present time a total of fifty-four plants in good standing, and forty-two of these cover plants in the province of Quebec while the remaining nine cover plants in Ontario. A total of 7,620 are supplying milk or cream to these plants. There are 380 additional permits held by individuals who export their products direct. Of these 361 are located in the province of Quebec, seven in Saskatchewan, six in Manitoba, four in British Columbia, one in the province of Ontario and the other in New Brunswick."

BALCHEN WORLD
FLIGHT SCHEME
IS DISCUSSED

New York, Oct. 31.—Bernt Balchen, who flew the north Atlantic and to the South Pole with Rear-Admiral Byrd, declined to comment to-day on a report that he planned a flight around the world next year.

From other sources it was learned the Fokker Airplane Corporation, for which Balchen is test pilot, was approached some time ago by a group planning a proposed round-the-world-flight. This group planned the flight for 1932. Balchen was not mentioned as pilot at the time and no overtures have been made to the Fokker Company to release him for such a flight, it is said.

The report from New London, credited to Balchen's uncle, Captain David Dedrick, was that Balchen hoped to fly with a crew of three men from New York to Nova Scotia, then to London, Moscow, Tokio, Nome, Alaska, and back home.

THE SEAPLANE BASE

THE REFUSAL BY THE DEPARTMENT

of Marine at Ottawa of permission for the use of the forebore in connection with the establishment of a seaplane base on adjoining city lots does not, in itself, prevent aircraft operating in and out of Victoria harbor. It does mean, however, that while the Pacific International Airways Limited, which had agreed to make its headquarters here and spend a considerable sum in the process, will establish facilities in either Seattle or Vancouver. Its seaplanes will use the harbor in the same way that it is used by the other company whose planes have made this city a port of call for some time, or the airport service between Victoria and Seattle. The problem in its relation to the navigation of surface vessels will remain precisely as it was, unless the decision has a bearing upon the interpretation of the regulations of the aviation department involving the matter of responsibility for collision between aircraft and surface vessels.

There is some inco-ordination between the Department of Marine and the Department of Defence at Ottawa on the subject of a seaplane base in this locality. Officers of the aviation service, which is under the Department of Defence, recommended Victoria Harbor for this purpose, and originally the Department of Marine had no objection to the recommendation, since its local agent approved of the site. Evidently the Department of Marine has reversed its attitude as far as a base is concerned under pressure from the two chief transportation companies, although it has not done so to the extent of prohibiting the use of the harbor by aircraft altogether. It also is apparent that the Department of Defence objects to the use of Esquimalt Harbor as a seaplane base, its desire no doubt being to retain that area exclusively for naval and military purposes.

Transportation by air is now an established thing, not an experiment. It will develop rapidly and extensively, and before long it will be almost as necessary for Victoria to be an airport as it is to be a shipping port. Adequate facilities for aircraft, both land-planes and seaplanes, will have to be established here just as they are being established in every other place in Canada which wants to keep up with the times.

BEAVERBROOK SCORES

win won a striking victory over newspaper moguls Beaverbrook and Rothermere at the Caxton Hall meeting of the Conservative party on Wednesday night when his leadership was sustained by a large majority, he cannot feel so happy about the result of the election in Paddington yesterday. There Admiral E. A. Taylor, "Empire Crusader"—which means a supporter of Lord Beaverbrook—was elected. In this election both Lord Beaverbrook and Lord Rothermere were behind Admiral Taylor with all the resources of their wealth plus the violent propaganda of their screeching newspapers.

Lord Rothermere has his own party, called the "United Empire" party, and that party had a candidate in the person of Mrs. Neil Stewart-Richardson, but Rothermere objected to her candidature because she had no title and left her to her fate while he joined Beaverbrook in boosting the Empire Crusader. Apparently even the hyphen which gives the name of the United Empire party candidate such imposing proportions was not respected by Lord Rothermere; nor did it carry any weight with the electors, since she footed the poll and lost her deposit.

Sir Herbert Liddard, who came second and nearly a thousand behind Admiral Taylor, was the regular Conservative candidate, who, of course, had the blessing of Mr. Baldwin. His defeat undoubtedly was a blow to the Conservative leader, especially as it followed so soon the expression of confidence given to him by his party. His candidate claims that he was the victim of an "intensive press campaign of abuse and misrepresentation." There can be no doubt that he had plenty of that. The Daily Mail and The Express must have excelled themselves in this campaign.

WHAT THE EAST THINKS

If Argentina has really repudiated her trade compact with Great Britain as a cable from London indicates, the reaction in England may be an important one for Canada, and may help to offset the feeling which has been engendered by the attempt of Canadian ministers to dictate to the Mother Country. Argentina is one of Canada's most aggressive competitors for the wheat market of the United Kingdom. That which injures Argentina can hardly fail to benefit the Dominion.

—The Toronto Star.

TO ASCERTAIN THE PROPORTIONS

in which Great Britain secures her foodstuffs from empire and from foreign countries, our eastern contemporary proceeds, is not so simple a matter as might be at first supposed. Canadian statistics of wheat shipments to the United Kingdom are hardly to be relied upon, because much of this wheat is switched to other continental countries and not consumed in Great Britain at all. British statistics of importation are more reliable, but there is always the possibility that some of the wheat shipped from Canada via the United States is credited to the republic instead of the Dominion. However, we read further, bearing these limitations in mind, it is interesting to find that in a very comprehensive report which has been submitted to the present Imperial Conference by the British Empire Producers' Organization there are indications that the United Kingdom has been buying approximately half her wheat and flour from non-empire countries. The figures for wheat and flour imports combined for the five "crop years" 1924-1928 are given as follows:

United Kingdom's Wheat and Flour Imports (In Centals of 100 lbs.)
Year ended	From British countries	From other countries	Total
1924	67,833,680	69,060,860	136,894,540
1925	76,443,120	67,874,600	144,317,720
1926	62,170,500	57,190,000	119,360,500
1927	62,102,600	70,014,600	132,117,200
1928	66,315,200	64,708,800	131,024,000

Then, The Star points out, there has been a change during the crop year which ended July 31, 1930, which has greatly increased the proportion of foreign wheat which Britain has imported. The statistics for this period are not yet available, but it is known that, as compared with the previous year, Canada's wheat shipments to the United Kingdom were practically cut in half. And Argentina was one of the countries whose wheat sales compensated for this curtailment. How the two countries stood in their sales to the English market prior to the developments of 1929-30 is shown by the following table of United Kingdom wheat and flour imports taken from the report to which reference has already been made.

Again the figures represent centals of 100 pounds:
Year ended	From Canada	From Argentina	Total
July 31	44,594,000	28,338,800	72,932,800
1929	41,748,000	17,901,400	59,649,400
1928	46,018,600	17,524,200	63,542,800
1927	43,507,400	18,989,000	62,496,400
1926	46,009,800	25,983,400	71,993,200

These figures indicate that Canada was supplying the United Kingdom with about a third of her imported breadstuffs, with Argentina in a much less favorable position. But in the past year, The Star concludes, there has been a change, and it has not been in favor of Canada. It has been very adverse to Canada, as the figures for the past year will show when these are obtainable. If Argentina is now re-nouncing her trade pact with Great Britain, there may yet be a reaction in favor of Canada's wheat. But the situation is by no means clear, and Premier MacDonald's statement is, to say the least, definite and decisive.

Last year young Roch Pinard, of Montreal, won the world's championship oratorical contest at Washington over representatives from most of the leading countries in Europe and America. This year young Lecluc, also of the province of Quebec, won second place. The young men of the ancient province take to public speaking as naturally as a duck takes to water, and, what is even more gratifying, they take a refreshingly active interest in the public affairs of the country. The exploits of her young orators in world competition should be a source of high pride to all Canadians.

Politicians from New Brunswick are raising high jinks nowadays. Mr. Bennett's "take-it-or-leave-it" attitude to the Old Country has raised a cloud over the imperial horizon which some day may have ominous consequences. Lord Beaverbrook, also of New Brunswick, has split the Conservative party in Britain. And now Premier Baxter of New Brunswick is intimating that under existing conditions there is no use of his province remaining within the Canadian confederation. Political brocho busters, all of 'em, but sometimes it happens that the best of broncho busters are thrown by their cayuses.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

ST. LAWRENCE OBSTACLES

The Toronto Globe

The Montreal Chamber of Commerce, like Premier Taschereau of Quebec, reaffirms its opposition to the building of the St. Lawrence deep waterway, because Montreal has been made a national port and its position should not be impaired. The same might be said of Quebec, Saint John, Halifax and Vancouver. Moreover, will these unbending opponents of St. Lawrence progress tell us why the new Welland Ship Canal was created, completing a deep channel from the head of Lake Superior to the foot of Lake Ontario, if it was not on the supposition that the channel to Montreal would likewise be completed?

HITLER HITS OUT

Adolph Hitler in The Chicago Herald Examiner

France can stand on her head, can invade Germany, and can create a still greater depression in the economic world by eliminating Germany. All that and more can happen and we shall suffer, but it will not break the determination of the young Germany I lead that there shall be a more reasonable and sensible adjustment of the unfulfillable burdens dictatorially imposed on Germany.

Those so-called "solemn obligations" were extorted from Germany at Versailles and The Hague at the point of a pistol, so that when Germany could not fulfill what is unfulfillable it could be held up to scorn and contumacy and backened as a dishonest and dishonorable country and a people who do not keep pledges.

A THOUGHT

Blessed are they that keep judgment, and he that doeth righteousness at all times.—Psalm cv. 3.

Blessedness consists in the accomplishment of our desires, and in our having only regular desires.—St. Augustine.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, OCT. 31, 1905

W. S. Gore, who for thirty years has been deputy commissioner of lands and works in this province, will retire from the service this evening.

As far as Victoria is concerned the tourist season for 1905 is at an end. During the last few weeks, in fact ever since the closing of the Lewis and Clark exposition at Portland, travel has fallen off to a considerable extent.

The Portland Canal mining district contains the biggest showing of high-grade silver, lead and copper ever struck in British Columbia. At the least, circulation it will take 4,000 men four years to work off what ore there is in sight," said M. J. Stewart, in conversation at the Dominion Hotel last evening, as he was getting ready to take a carriage to the C.P.R. steamer Princess Beatrice, bound for Seattle, where he was going on mining business.

The sealing schooner, Carrie C. W., arrived Sunday from the Behring Sea after an interesting voyage.

In order to ascertain personally the authenticity of the report that the Seattle Athletic Association was making every effort to organize an international basketball league to include teams from the two sound cities—Seattle and Tacoma—and Vancouver and Victoria, B.C., a representative of the Victoria West Athletic Association visited the officials of the American organization last week.

Loose Ends

A solemn appeal for law and order—with certain reprehensible reflections—concerning our wicked goings-on—at Hallowe'en long ago.

By H. B. W.

THIS IS Hallowe'en, and I suppose an institution which carries as much weight with the public as this column should join in sanctimonious advice to the young against wicked behaviour to-night. Happily, the young never read this column, so that such advice would be entirely lost. For the same reason, I am able in this column to say many things which the young must not hear. I am able to say that there is more rank hypocrisy preached to the young on Hallowe'en than on any other occasion. They are told by the police, by their teachers, by their parents that they must on no account be rough on Hallowe'en though these policemen, these teachers and these parents, in their time, gloried in a Hallowe'en outbreak which would be put down with armed force in these times. And while warning the young that they must do nothing more violent to-night than bob for apples these grown-ups look back with secret pride and satisfaction on many a Hallowe'en when they would remove every gate in the neighborhood, sweep all the old ladies out of their paths and haul the minister's two-wheeled dog-cart up to the top of the flag pole in the school grounds.

I LOOK BACK on my own Hallowe'en with a shuddering satisfaction and a certain wistfulness, and wonder as they were, I have no regrets for them whatever. They were great times. We used to prepare for Hallowe'en on our street—it was an old-fashioned street over in James Bay, with a kind of dingy charm not to be found in the newer and better residential districts—weeks in advance. The first shocking crime of the Hallowe'en season was to steal a pumpkin from old Hop Kee, the vegetable Chinaman. This, of course, was very wrong, and you must not tell your young about it, but we never felt any remorse. We used to wait until old Hop Kee got into an argument with Miss Flint, the spinster lady at the corner, over the price of celery and then we would sneak up to his wagon and quietly remove a pumpkin and hide it behind the hedge. It was a remarkable reflection on Mr. Kee's bookkeeping that he never once suspected the loss of a pumpkin, or if he did, he evidently considered this part of the overhead of operating on our street, where his profits were large and consistent. Anyway, he never complained.

HAVING GOT the pumpkin, we set out to prepare it according to the best traditions. One grew very expert at preparing pumpkins, and before I was ten years old I could carve with my pumpkin carver on our street. There was a touch to my pumpkin carving which most of the boys could not approach, and when the job was done there was a look on the face of my Jack-o'-lantern, a kind of wicked leer in the eyes, a sardonic tilt to the mouth, and I have not seen elsewhere. Ah, those Jack-o'-lanterns carved so many years ago in the clubhouse which we had built in our back yard of beach driftwood. Old as I am, I can still smell the insides of ripe pumpkins and see the eager faces of my accomplices as they watched me put the final touches to my masterpiece.

PERSONAL LIBERTY had not perished from the earth in those days and scientific oppression had not threatened children with destruction if they failed to bed early. We were allowed then to stay on Hallowe'en until 9 o'clock, and no questions were asked. I think we employed our time rather effectively. Our first endeavor was to educate the very young in some of the deeper mysteries of life, and as the little tots could only stay out until eight, we used to arrange a special feast for them in the woodshed, where an apparition wearing a white sheet and a pumpkin head, with light shining through the teeth and eyes, would properly terrify them. They were usually glad to go home after that and bob for apples.

HAVING THUS initiated the very young, our next purpose was to pay off all the accumulated neighborhood scores of the year, which we did by thrusting our Jack-o'-lantern up against people's windows and imagining that we were scaring them almost to death. This was sufficient for most of the people we didn't like, but for some particular ones we reserved more effective measures. There was old Colonel Boggle, for instance. We didn't like Colonel Boggle for he had an orchard behind his house, and seemed to harbor a narrow-minded objection to small boys stealing his apples. We devised many ways of dealing with old Colonel Boggle on Hallowe'en so as to demonstrate to him the folly of trying to keep us out of his orchard.

IN OUR highest achievement against Colonel Boggle, he unwittingly cooperated with us by foolishly storing his gate away for Hallowe'en. In the space where his gate had been we stretched a wire exactly at the height of Colonel Boggle's magnificent corporation. Then, about 8 o'clock in the evening we hurriedly snatched some marks, and the disembodied insides of our Jack-o'-lantern at the door of the Boggle residence. The Colonel, who had been expecting us, came thundering out of the house, and hurried himself against the invisible wire with such force as to deflate himself completely, and while he leaned against the fence, grunting in great misery, we threw more pumpkin insides at him, but were careful to hide behind a hedge in a most cowardly fashion. Poor old Colonel Boggle is dead now, and we have forgiven him and, having an orchard of my own, I am beginning to understand why he didn't like small boys ruining it.

FOR MISS FLINT, the spinster lady at the corner, we also reserved special treatment. We didn't like Miss Flint, but the origin of our feud with her is too remote to bear explanation here. Clipping all the hair off her yellow Persian cat had something to do with it, as I remember. Anyway, our practice was to nail a large biscuit tin to a stick and, after filling the tin with oak leaves and some of the insides of the Jack-o'-lantern, if any remained, we leaned the stick against Miss Flint's door and rang the bell. When she opened the door the tin spilled its contents all over Miss Flint's hall floor; but I have always considered it a proof of our native gentility that we only put leaves and pumpkin insides in the tin when we might so easily have used mud.

I SUPPOSE ONE should rejoice that such wicked days and such wicked practices have disappeared from our city. I suppose we should tell our children that they never existed. This column, therefore, joins the forces of law and order in deploring such things, in warning the young that they must be good to-night, and secretly with a pagan impudence, in deploring also a civilization where the good old-fashioned customs of Hallowe'en must be deplored.

"TRIBUTE TO WHOM TRIBUTE"

To the Editor:—We often speak severely of the ways and deeds of "big business" firms and companies—as they, indeed, like individuals, sometimes seem to deserve; though it is doubtful whether sharp criticism ever wrought much but heart-burning and bitterness, the vastly better method being to "tell them the fault between thee and them alone." A fine notice by a merchant was, "If you like our goods, tell others; if not, tell us." I don't know that the B.C. Telephone Company has endured much criticism, but I feel strongly, just now, that I would like to "tell others" how much I think the Victoria citizens should appreciate their painstaking in preparing us for the cut-over on Sat-

THE WRONG WAY

To the Editor:—The city has long needed better streets, parks, beaches and sidewalks among other things, but has not been able to do these betterments because it has lacked the money.

Unemployed men are now in need of maintenance and have to be provided with work by the city. Don't the two things dovetail?

And would it not be much better to spend money and give relief by permanently improving the city's streets, parks, beaches and sidewalks, rather than cutting cordwood?

What must be the effect of a cordwood camp, assuming that the wood is not simply burnt at the camp but is brought into town and either sold or used by the city itself? For every cord sold from the city camp or used by the city instead of buying wood in the usual way, somebody now working for a cord, is going to lose the sale of a cord. If the men of the city's cordwood camp produce as many cords as fifty independent men produce, then fifty men who are now making their own living cutting cordwood, will be thrown out of work. Where is the advantage in that? It is not an even break, but rather a disadvantage to the city.

Surely it would be much fairer and much better to employ these men who need relief on work which the city needs but which it has not been able to do in the past for lack of funds.

ROYAL PAIR ARRIVE HOME

King Boris and Queen Giovanna Given Great Ovation

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 31.—King Boris III, who until last Saturday was Europe's bachelor king, brought his bride, Princess Giovanna of Italy, home to Sofia to-day to the plaudits of thousands of his subjects gathered at the railroad station.

Their train arrived at 10 a.m., from Bourgas, where they debarked from the royal yacht, Czar Ferdinand, yesterday afternoon.

Reports published in Bucharest that seven shots had been fired at the royal train carrying the King and Queen, were denied here.

A Bucharest dispatch published here to-day reported the royal train with King Boris and his bride aboard was fired on yesterday evening at the Manole station between Bourgas and Sofia. An unidentified man fired seven shots, one of which slightly wounded a soldier of the king's bodyguard, while another bullet struck the rifle of a second soldier. The assailant escaped in the darkness.

YOUR BABY and MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

ADOPTION IS FAIRLY BUSINESS-LIKE PROPOSITION

Of all the questions which come to us we are puzzled most by those intermittent, heart-breaking appeals from bereft parents or childless parents who want to know, "How Can I Adopt a Baby?"

Seemingly all of these want-to-be-parents have a single idea, which is to get a baby, get him quickly, and bring him up as their own child. On the face of it this is laudable and desirable; actually it is not. There is, and should be more to adopting a baby than just selecting any baby available and making him one's own. For every child there is always a future and always a past, and to secure the first we must investigate the second.

MENTAL DEVELOPMENT

One mother wrote, "I would like a baby two days old so that it would seem just like our own baby." But what can be told about a two day old baby? At this tender age all babies are very much alike. Only when age and growth have brought definite signs of mental development to babies begin to differ and become individuals. A two day old baby might be a hopeless mental defective and the parent would not be aware of it. It would hardly be sensible to take to one's heart and home a baby who could never appreciate us or whom we could never appreciate because he was a mental defective.

Likewise one must have the protection offered by reliable placing agencies to insure that both of the baby's parents willingly relinquish him. Otherwise an adoption is not legal, and some day the real parent may turn up and demand his baby. The law stands by the real, not the adoptive parent, for this is a matter about which even sentiment has no weight.

BABY'S BACKGROUND

Hereditarily plays a role in development, so it is wise for the adoptive parents to make certain that the child comes from parents of normal intelligence. What these parents may have become with regard to their moral or ethical standards is of small consequence, but their mental inheritance they bequeath to their baby as certainly as they donate their physical characteristics. One must be certain that neither parent is a mental defective, thus making education of their offspring difficult and sometimes impossible.

All of these warnings sound hard-hearted. In truth they are not. A baby whom parents want to make their own and to receive their love must be educable. A baby should be desired by both the adoptive parents, for the father plays as big a part in the life of the child as the mother. An adoption merely to please the mother will deprive the child of interest which he has a right to demand from the father.

We have prepared a leaflet on "Adoption" which we offer to any parent who intends taking a baby for his own. It offers just those warnings and advice which reputable placing agencies have devised for the protection of adoptive parents and of the child they adopt. Be sure to send a self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

To-morrow "Tops of Anticipation Must be Taught to Child."

WOMEN TO HEAR SOUTH AFRICAN

John Bird to Address Women's Canadian Club Monday

"Great Britain, Canada and the United States—Is Canada a Link?" will be the subject of the address to be given before the Women's Canadian Club on Monday afternoon at the Empress Hotel by John Bird, who is touring Canada under the auspices of the Association of Canadian Clubs.

Mr. Bird is a South African by birth, son of the permanent secretary to the government of Natal, and was educated at Bedford School, England, and at Clongowood Wood College, Ireland, and Oxford University. He is an Oxford "blue" and was also the first Davison scholar at Harvard University, a scholarship offered to a few outstanding graduates of British Universities for study in American universities. In 1926 Mr. Bird was appointed press officer at the British Library of Information by the Foreign Office, and served in that capacity for three years, when he was made associate editor of The Weekly News Review, of Washington, D.C.

An extensive traveler through South Africa, Europe, the United States, West Indies and Canada, Mr. Bird is well equipped both by education and experience to speak on Empire problems, and his address on Monday afternoon promises to be unusually interesting.

SUCCESSFUL BRIDGE

Through the kindness of the Dean and Mrs. Quinlan a very successful bridge and whist party took place at the Deanery, Burdette Avenue, on Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of the Royal Society of St. George. Nearly sixty participants occupied the tables and the evening's entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The prizes were won by the following: Bridge: Miss Angus, Mr. Greenway, Mrs. Howard and Mr. Eric Quinlan. Whist: Mrs. Riddick, Mrs. B. Parsons, Mrs. Lovatt and Mrs. Randall. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the auxiliary and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Dean and Mrs. Quinlan for their kindness and hospitality.

PIANO RECITAL

An interesting pianoforte recital was given by some of the pupils of Miss Helen Riley at her home in Gordon Head recently. Many parents and friends of the young students were present. The following pupils took part: Dorothy Barnes, Jean Dawson, Evelyn Druce, Percy Barnes, Nora Marcotte, Lillian Le Coque, Muriel Mercer, Howard Frost, Ellen Breakell, Ellen Trueman, Annie Marcotte, Lorna Atkins, Dorothy Humeson and Hugh Ramsay.

NEEDY FAMILIES TO DIG POTATOES

Winnipeg, Oct. 31.—Mayor Webb of Winnipeg, appealing to local market gardeners to permit needy families to dig potatoes they were leaving in the ground because of low prices, said: "I understand there are many farmers and market gardeners in the vicinity of the city who, owing to the low price of potatoes, are leaving acres of them in the ground. Winter will soon be here, and then the potatoes would be frozen in the ground. There are plenty of families who would go out and dig them for themselves if the owners would give them permission."

The mayor said he would welcome information as to farmers or market gardeners willing to adopt his suggestion.

OAK BAY NOT TO PROCEED WITH PAVING

Vigorous Protest From Tax-payers Against $22,000 Plan on Central Avenue

Council Hears Discussion on Unemployed During Regular Meeting Yesterday

The proposed paving plan on Central Avenue, Oak Bay, to make that road a main connecting highway, was defeated yesterday evening at the regular meeting of the Oak Bay Council, when it was reported that more than twenty people out of thirty-four concerned in the plan had vigorously protested, on the plea that the present was no time in which to increase the tax rate, which would have to be done if the plan were carried out.

The municipality intended to pave Central Avenue from St. Patrick Street through to Newport Avenue. The paving would be twenty-seven feet wide with curbing, which would make the total thirty feet. The cost would be approximately $22,000, thirty per cent of which would be carried by the municipality and seventy per cent by the taxpayers owning homes or lots on this part of the avenue. As a result of the vigorous protests read to the council, it was decided that a cheaper pavement would be laid down. The municipal engineer was instructed to look into the matter, discuss it with the petitioners and report back to the council.

PETITION PRESENTED

Dr. Robert Robertson head a list of names protesting to the improvement. The petition said that the main logical highway from Oak Bay into the city is Beach Drive, and not Central Avenue, because it is impossible to continue Central westerly into the city. Among the signatures on the petition were those of Harold Palmer, R. G. Purser for the Victoria Realty Company, E. F. Cathels, Mrs. E. M. E. Napier, Mrs. C. E. Phillips, L. A. Hanna, Charlotte Robertson, Edith Hunkins, H. L. Roe, Edgar Garratt, Jane Ellis, H. L. N. Edwards, J. R. C. Collier-Wright, M. M. Wood, Mildred G. Clark, W. L. Woodhouse and P. W. Rowson.

RELIEF MEASURE

The council also discussed unemployment. A letter was read to the council from P. Philip of the Department of Public Works, which indicated some revision in the government scheme might have to be made. It was explained that the fifty per cent grant from the Federal and Provincial Governments did not include any material, other than actual hand implements and material such as sewer pipe. Twenty-seven names of unemployed are at present upon the Blandy, municipal clerk, told the council. It is hoped to have employment ready for these men within a very short time. Work is to be done on roads, and some clearing on one of the Oak Bay parks will also be done to help in the relief. The letter from Mr. Philip was received and filed and will be dealt with later.

A letter acknowledging receipt of $25 donated to the Victoria Firemen's Mutual Benefit Association by the municipality in appreciation of services by the Victoria fire department at the recent Beach Hotel fire was read to the council yesterday. A letter of thanks for $25 donated to the recent school children's water gala at the Crystal Garden was also read to the council.

Langford

The regular meeting of the Langford Women's Institute was held in the Dunford Road Hall on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Dan Macdonald, president, welcomed the members and three visitors, Mrs. W. Fielding, Mrs. W. Hamilton and Miss Scott. A report of the Y.W.C.A. Travelers Aid was read, and the members decided to send a donation of $5.00 to this worthy cause.

Literature regarding using B.C. lamb was distributed. An invitation to a silver tea was received from the Royal Oak Women's Institute.

The postponed character card party was arranged for Wednesday evening, November 5. Part of the proceeds will be diverted to charitable purposes. The members decided to continue the B.C. traveling library; the books being available for all dwellers in the district.

A splendid report on the recent Lower Island conference was given by one of the delegates, Mrs. Percy N. Welch.

The members decided to give prizes for the most inexpensive child's fancy dress and best costume at the annual "Follies" party on Friday. Mrs. D. Malcolm gave a clear and most interesting demonstration on Italian cutwork and also showed many kinds of embroidery stitches; the demonstrator was thanked for her instructive talk. Tea was served by Mrs. D. B. Bullen and Mrs. P. N. Welch, assisted by Mrs. George Alkman. Yellow chrysanthemums and choice autumn leaves decorated the tables.

Will Shenk of Toronto, is spending the winter months with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Shenk of Langford Lake.

O. Olson of Oyster River, is spending a few days with his family on the Goldstream Road.

Mrs. William T. Dixon and daughter, Molly, who have been visiting relations and friends in England for the last four months, returned on Wednesday to their home, Bryn Mawr Farm.

Mrs. Malden who has been staying some time with Mrs. James L. Brown, has returned to Victoria.

Service on Sunday, November 2, in St. Matthew's Church will be held at 7 o'clock.

During the winter months mass will be celebrated in the Roman Catholic Church, Island Highway, on the first and third Sunday mornings at 8.45 o'clock.

The District Girl Guides will meet at 2 o'clock at Langford Lakeside. The next practice of the Langford Badminton Club will be held on Saturday evening at Langford Lakeside. On Monday evening there will also be a club practice match held.

NOTED AUTHOR

HERE TUESDAY

Ernest Raymond, Padre Overseas,
Now Devoted to Cause of Peace

Ernest Raymond, who is to speak on
"The Spirit of England" on Tuesday evening at the First Baptist Church under the auspices of the National Council of Education, participated in the war on six different fronts. He was in the role of a padre, through the eyes of men dying of wounds or disease in the mud of Flanders, the arctic cold of Russia, under the blazing sun in Egypt, Sinai, Mesopotamia and Persia, and on the bare and merciless beaches.

After his experiences, living with men under conditions of strain and stress such as the world had never before known, he returned to civilian life disgusted and ashamed of those forces in present-day civilization which not only make war possible, but which definitely lend themselves to the furtherance of it. Mr. Raymond resigned Holy Orders in 1923 to devote his whole time to literature, a wider field in which he felt convinced he could serve to greater effect.

His second visit to Victoria will be welcomed by his many readers and by all those who will be privileged to hear him. Mr. Raymond, while commanding lecture fees of considerable amounts both in England and the United States, comes again to Canada, voluntarily contributing to the cause of his valuable time to a cause which he has closely at heart.

Tickets for Tuesday's address, which based largely on his latest book,
"The Jesting Army," may be obtained at Fletcher Bros.

Everybody

expression

He murmured:
"Oh, pardon me"
... a hundred times
a day ...

It was embarrassing to his friends—doubtless so to him. No matter what he ate, it caused gas and distress. He was nervous, irritable and rapidly losing weight. He couldn't sleep. So-called "quick relief" had no effect. A friend suggested Tanlac. In a few days the pains ceased. His nerves relaxed. His stomach was back to normal. He was able to eat and his weight was coming back.

GOD WORK BY

ESQUIMALT RURAL NURSING SERVICE

Special to The Times
Langford, Oct. 31.—The eleventh annual meeting of the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service was held in the Women's Institute Hall Wednesday evening with a good attendance of visitors from the surrounding districts.
E. P. Ashe, president, was in the chair.
Mrs. C. Brown, secretary-treasurer, read the financial statement for the year, which was considered very satisfactory.

The president, in his report, greatly regretted that Colwood and Albert Head were not included in the nursing service this year, but announced that Goldstream and part of Sooke district would be included in the nursing area.
The society to prevent disease and sickness in the interest of the whole community, his resignation from office,
owing to living out of the nursing area,
was received with great regret.

The secretary in her report explained that the health film taken of the local school children had been sold and was being shown by other provinces in Canada. The dental work done under the auspices of the Esquimalt rural nursing service was considered highly satisfactory. Mrs. H. G. Kelly, nurse in charge, reported her year's work was as follows:

month, home school visits 618, health talks given 78, social visits 97, home visits 524, pre-natal visits 23, patients taken to hospital 12, children excluded from school 1, co-operative visits 28, infectious cases 5, child welfare visits 385, paid nursing visits (including hospital visits, policy holders) 412, telephone consultations 976, roadside consultations, average six per month, free nursing visits 64, confine-ments 2, minor accidents 18, visits to dentist 10, dental work attended re public health matters 4.

Annual inspection of school children in all districts with medical inspector. Annual health examination day in May. Rest tent attended at Luxton fair all children weighed and measured for development records, attended nurses'
treasurer course.

A vote of confidence and appreciation of her work was passed to Miss
H. G. Kelly by the meeting.

The secretary-treasurer report was as follows:

for his services and was unanimously
re-elected.

B.C. Bond Finance Impaired Since End of Last Year

Examination of Operations and Accounts a Year Ago
Would Have Revealed Approaching Crisis, Says
A. N. Moutat in Report; Royal Trust Company Appointed Trustee; May Take Year to Clear Up Situation, Custodian Explains; Money Invested in Two Rockgas Companies Important Factors.

Creditors of the defunct B.C.
Bond Corporation Limited, stock-brokers, who crowded the floor, yesterday afternoon, were informed by the reports of A. N. Moutat and the other investigators, who made audits of the affairs of the corporation, that funds had been advanced to finance two Rockgas companies, organized by officials of the corporation, and also that some directors of the companies who were trading were not only down in their margins, but owed the company more than $12,000.

F. E. Winslow, custodian, reported the reply to a specific query from him to Frederick Holden, B.C. Bond auditor, that as long ago as December 31, 1929,
the B.C. Bond Corporation was in a state of liquidation because of frozen assets and un-negotiable securities carried on the corporation's account.

"Had an intelligent examination of the operations and accounts of the corporation been made a year ago, it should not have escaped notice that the affairs of the corporation were approaching a crisis," Mr. Moutat added, which would have been averted had $63,269 advanced to the two Rockgas companies.

Besides the $142,000 claim of the Royal Bank of Canada in Victoria, the statement showed $40,000 from the Royal Bank of Canada in Vancouver.

It was explained that it was impossible yet to make a statement regarding the various stock holdings of the B.C.
Bond in New York which were "frozen."
Mr. Winslow said it might not be possible to get even a bid on some of these for some time.

The complete statement summary showed liabilities amounting to $284,- 280.52, with total assets of $202,268.87, leaving a deficit or loss of $81,981.65.

Doubt and bad debts were listed at over $52,000.

Mr. Winslow, in answer to questions, said that it would be a matter of months, maybe more than a year, before the auditor's statement could be prepared and that the share of what was coming to them.

The auditor's report showed that in 1927 the B.C. Bond in its operations showed a profit of $41,199, in 1928 of $21,020, but in 1929 there was a loss of $80,156.

The statement of the assets, liabilities and loss in the bankruptcy is not complete yet, as there are many adjustments to be made, but on the whole the proportions should not be much changed, Mr. Winslow said.

SOLD STOCK IN LAST MONTH

It was explained that since September 24 last, H. E. Boorman, managing director, had sold $30,000 preferred stock in the B.C. Bond Corporation and that some of these directors were claiming their purchases were only in the form of loans made to the corporation and that therefore they should rank as creditors and not lose the full amount of what they put in as their preferred shareholders will.

Mr. Winslow said that the position of many clients who had stock in various positions of being fully paid for, or partially paid for, and who had no collateral which company had turned into the bank to raise money for its own account, would have to be considered individually and that in some cases it would be necessary to obtain court decisions as to the status of persons as creditors.

The complete report of the audit as conducted by Mr. Moutat was presented in a large volume, listing every detail of the company's position. The work elicited the highest praise from the auditors, accountants and creditors, before whom it was placed, who complained of the enormous amount of work which he and his assistants had packed into the last two weeks. Officially declared it was the most exhaustive statement of complicated affairs of a defunct company which had been presented in any western bankruptcy proceedings.

MANY LAWYERS IN CASE

Besides the hundreds of creditors who packed the court, there was a lineup of practically all the chief lawyers in Victoria, who were there as counsel for the larger creditors.

Major B. T. Drake, registrar of the Supreme Court and chancellor in bankruptcy, opened the proceedings by calling the role of all the creditors so far listed and reading the auditors' statements. The following list has charge of the various stalls: needlework, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Osborne; candy and home cooking, Mrs. Rochon and Mrs. Guy; toys, Mrs. Watt and Mrs. Greenhaugh were in charge of the tea room. The lucky ticket for the load cake held by Mrs. H. Ward and J. Roberts won a pair of canaries while the dressed doll went to Mrs.
J. Osborne. In the evening a military five hundred tournament was held with twelve tables in play. Table No. 11 won first prize with twenty-four discs, the players being Mrs. J. Roberts, Mrs. S. Lee, Mrs. Rochon and Mr. Locourey. Second prize was won by table No. 7 with twenty-three discs, the players were Mrs. J. Freeland, Miss Gladys Guy, W. D. Michell and Mrs. Guy. Mrs. Watt and Mrs.
Rochon. The next card party of the series will be held on Wednesday, November 6.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hoyer, who left with Dr. Clem Davis's party on a tour through Europe, and have since been visiting in Canada, Alberta, returned home on Saturday.

Mrs. Reed of Victoria is visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs.
F. Lindsay, Viridor Avenue.

Watrous, Sask., Oct. 31.—Buried under six feet of snow for six days, a six-months-old lamb, yesterday resumed its gambols on the farm of William Carr, near here. The animal was caught in a snowdrift during the recent blizzard and completely covered.

Lindrum Clicks 1,754 Break In Cue Tournament

London, Oct. 31.—Not often does a billiards tournament see such making play as that which yesterday featured the third match of the international professional tourney, which is being played in London and Bradford.

Walter Lindrum, the great Australian player, who, in all three matches, has given each of his opponents a free lead of 7,000 points, furnished a spectacular break of 1,754 points yesterday. His unfinished high break left him with a total of 11,773.

Tom Newman, playing with Clarke McConachy, Australia, still leads the professional quartette with 14,498 points, this including the gift of 7,000. Lindrum is now next, after only six days of play in the third match. McConachy comes third with 10,900, and Joe Doonan, who was playing against Lindrum in Bradford, fourth with 10,775.

As secured. These liabilities consist of loans from banks and balances due to brokers. Of the security pledged $57,000 was the property of the B.C.
Bond Corporation and the balance of $149,000 was the property of clients.
BAD ACCOUNTS TOTAL LARGE

"Among the assets you will note that bad and doubtful accounts totaling $63,000 are shown as having a value of $12,000. None of these accounts are secured and represent undermargined accounts. Between $12,000 and $13,- 000 of these accounts which are shown as bad are due by directors. It is perhaps only fair to say that the two largest amounts totaling about $12,000 were incurred while these persons were acting as salesmen and as commissionaries. Since the bankruptcy of the company one of these directors has paid $850, being the proceeds of the sale of his automobile.

ROCKGAS ADVANCES LARGE

"The amounts advanced by the company to the two Rockgas companies is shown at face value and they are difficult to value at present. I have interviewed Mr. Smith who is in charge of both of these companies and he believes that given a reasonable amount of time he will be able to value the debts
out. The trustee and the inspectors will have to decide on a policy to be pursued in connection with these assets.

"The proposition rightly managed has, I believe, merit, and I have been approached by several persons already with proposals to purchase.

"Mr. Smith assures me that he can carry on without further capital and the inspectors will have ample time to consider the matter carefully.

"At the time the advances were made to these companies, the shares in them were apparently registered in the name of the individual members of the company. Some little time ago, however, these shares were handed over to the B.C. Bond Corporation.

PREFERRED SHAREHOLDERS
"LOANS"

"Several persons appear as holders of preferred stock of the B.C. Bond Corporation who claim that they should be entitled to a share of the assets and to subscribe for stock, but merely loaned certain securities at Mr. Boorman's request to tide the company over a trying period. It is possible that they may later appear as creditors instead of shareholders.

MAY REQUIRE COURT DECISION

"Many questions have arisen as to the ownership of stock held in New York for the general account of the corporation, and also in regard to clients' securities pledged to the bank.
Court precedents are available to assist the trustee in many cases; in others, it may be necessary to ask an opinion of the court.

"The reports prepared are, I believe, complete, in so far as they show where everything is and give the trustee a real starting point.

"If anyone has any questions to ask which I believe it will be my duty as custodian to answer, I will be glad to do so. Most of the questions which some of you wish to ask, however, I think will have to be submitted to the trustee and probably will be answered by him after consultation with the inspectors, and if I have to answer you to this effect you will understand that at a meeting such as this, individual cases cannot be taken up.

"I would like to add that so far as I have ascertained the books appear to be in order. Bookkeeping was not included in and the situation that you find yourselves in appears to have been arrived at gradually and not due to shrinkage in the value and marketability of the company's securities, changing a substantial surplus into a deficit.
It is now your privilege to ask questions of the custodian and the directors. Unfortunately Mr. Boorman, whom I saw yesterday, is unable to be present and his doctor has so certified.
Mr. Boorman, I might say, was anxious to be at the meeting but, as stated above, was not physically able to attend.

"After a discussion of the balance sheet, it is my duty to appoint a trustee and not more than five inspectors. My own suggestion is that three inspectors will be most satisfactory.

"Respectfully submitted,
F. E. WINSLOW,
Custodian B.C. Bond Corporation

Will You Need an Income of $100 a Month?

Some one has said that the sweetest words in the English language are "Enclosed please find cheque."

How would you like to have $100 a month mailed to you regularly after you reach age 50, 55, 60 or 65, whichever you select? You would like to have it now, perhaps, and if you have the capital sum needed to buy such an income the Canada Life will guarantee it to you at once. But if you haven't the capital, you can arrange now that you will have that income later on.

Suppose you are earning $100 a month
—it may be $150, $200 or more. Whatever it is there is a part of that income
you want continued.

If you were not here, how much would continue? That is, how much of your income would go on, no matter if you earned a salary or drew pay or not?
For many people the answer would have to be: "Not very much!"

It takes $20,000 capital well invested to bring in $100 a month. Under the Canada Life plan you do not need to save $20,000 in order to make sure of an income of $100 a month.

The Canada Life, with $175,000,000 of well invested assets will guarantee to continue that part of your income which you have later on for living expenses, say $100 a month. And the Canada Life may have to start the income going at any time to you or to your family. There are no years of waiting if the need should come suddenly. That is, should you become totally disabled or should you die, the what happened in the following cases:

He was thirty years of age and everything was going well until he got tuberculosis. Then he lost his earnings, but his Canada Life Policy paid him $100 a month. Four years later he returned to work and said: "That income saved my life, gave me new courage, enabled me to pay my way,
a blessing indeed."

An old man came into our office. He was alone in life—home, family, all gone; unable even to pay his board bill.
He had but one asset left, a Canada
Life policy, taken years before in order to protect his family, he said. He was astonished to find that the cash value and profits were large enough to buy him $100 a month annuity for life.

Another man bought a policy which guaranteed to pay him $100 a month when he reached age 65, but he died at age 50. His widow has been drawing the $100 a month for years, and she says it seems as though he brings it to her each month.

We have hundreds of similar cases which could mention. There is but one sure way. How you can provide a similar income is told in our booklet, "Getting the Income You Want." Why not send income going at any time to you or to your family.

CLIFFORD DAWLEY, DEPORTED, TAKEN BY POLICE HERE

Local Man Again in Custody After Alleged Escape From Penitentiary Jail

Was Wounded in Arrest By San Francisco Officer; May Face Charge

Facing a term of imprisonment imposed on him at Penitentiary, B.C., for housebreaking, Clifford Dawley of this city, alleged to have broken jail at the interior town, was taken into custody again as he stepped on to Canadian soil yesterday evening.

With his arm in a sling as the result of a bullet wound received in San Francisco, Dawley was arrested by Chief of Police John Fry as he left the steamer Ruth Alexander which arrived here at 11:30 o'clock from California.

He was taken to the city jail. Pending word from Penitentiary police, it is expected Dawley will be taken to Oakalla. He may later be sent to Penitentiary to face trial on the charge of breaking from custody.

OFFICER RECOGNIZED HIM
Dawley was deported from the United States following his arrest in San Francisco by Police Lieutenant George Richards, who recognized him from a circular. When word of his deportation was received here, arrangements were made to pick him up on the steamer. The arrest in San Francisco climaxed several months of freedom which Dawley enjoyed following his alleged escape from custody at Penitentiary. Under the name of Clifford Foster, he was sentenced at Penitentiary for housebreaking, but while awaiting transfer to Oakalla to serve the term escaped, according to police reports.

RESISTS CAPTURE
Chief Fry, on the lookout for the man, first picked up his trail in Seattle early in September. On September 18, Dawley was recognized in San Francisco by Officer Richards and made a spirited attempt to evade capture, engaging in a fist fight with the officer, according to telegraphic reports. Richards drew his gun and shot Dawley through the arm, then taking him in charge.

After recovering from the effects of his wound, Dawley was turned over to the immigration authorities at San Francisco who arranged his deportation. In San Francisco he was reported to have given the name of Clifford Dixon.

PHONE CHANGE ORGANIZATION IN READINESS

Rehearsal of Cutting Over to Dial System Held Yesterday

Telephone officials of Victoria and Vancouver met in conference here this morning to make final arrangements for the changing of the Victoria telephone system to the dial method of operation to-morrow midnight. The reports showed that plans were being carried out on schedule, and that the various departments would be ready for the zero hour.

Yesterday the men who will actually "cut over" the system from the old to the new equipment took up their positions and went through the motions of what they will do on Saturday night. Control will be centralized with one official, who will be in telephone touch with the various parts of the building.

The Telephone Company is anxious that any subscribers who, by any chance do not already know how to dial, will visit the downtown demonstration office at 620 Post Street, opposite the Pemberton Building.

Telephone men from many cities throughout the province were here for the cut-over, as the Victoria installation represents the latest word in telephone equipment, and is of interest to technical men. Mayor Anscombe visited the exchange building yesterday afternoon and displayed keen interest in the complicated apparatus.

COURT ALLOWS $11,000 APPEAL

Vancouver, Oct. 31.—With Mr. Justice Macpherson dissenting, the B.C. Court of Appeal has allowed the appeal of P. E. Wilson, K.C., and J. O. Wilson, Prince George lawyers, from an $11,000 judgment in favor of Mrs. Elizabeth Overb, Vancouver.

Mrs. Overb, who conducted a fur trading post at Whitewater, about 500 miles from Prince George, was awarded $11,000 damages by a Supreme Court jury here against Messrs. Wilson and Wilson on the ground that they had withdrawn from her in litigation concerning the seizure of her business.

Four Court of Appeal judges, Chief Justice Macpherson and Justices Martin, Gallie and M. A. Macdonald, decided that Mrs. Overb had subsequently ratified the proceedings taken by lawyers.

ZONING BY-LAW TO BE OPPOSED

Realtors Will Campaign For Less Stringent Regulation of Property Use

The Real Estate Board of Victoria this afternoon decided to be represented at the public hearing on amendments to the zoning by-law to be held by the City Council at the City Hall on November 5. The board will demand lighter restrictions upon the use made of property by landowners. At the fortnightly luncheon held this afternoon at Spencer's Restaurant, with Mayor Kirkpatrick-Crockett in the chair, David Leeming won support for resolutions favoring inclusion in the zoning by-law of concessions to property owners. Alternative to inclusion of the recommendations the delegation will urge annulment of the present by-law and replacement with a new by-law.

Major Cuthbert Holmes opposed the resolution and the recommendations, pointing out that the rights of residence owners required protection from invasion by businesses, oil stations, and small retail stores.

CATHOLIC WOMEN IN CONVENTION

Mrs. W. C. McManus Elected President of Victoria Diocesan Subdivision

The Victoria Diocesan Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League met in annual convention yesterday in the library of the Bishop's Palace, when reports of the various subdivisions were heard. The following officers were elected: Diocesan Past President, Miss H. O'Brien; Diocesan President, Mrs. W. C. McManus; first vice-president, Mrs. R. A. Duncan; second vice-president, Mrs. W. W. Baines; third vice-president, Mrs. E. Colbert; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. A. J. McKenna; councilors, Mrs. R. A. J. McKenna, Mrs. C. Deasy, Esquimalt; Mrs. Harris Hill, Mrs. A. Kinney, Mrs. Windau and Mrs. Munroe; Port Alberni, Mrs. A. McDonald and two to be appointed. The roll call of diocesan voting delegates was responded to by Mrs. Blair McKenna, Esquimalt, Mrs. E. Vernon Thomson, Oak Bay-Willows; Mrs. C. Deasy, Esquimalt; Mrs. F. T. Porter, Cobble Hill; and the junior subdivision's report was presented by Mrs. Ebb-Cannan in the unavoidable absence of the secretary-treasurer, Miss Helen Redgrave.

The diocesan president, Miss H. O'Brien, in her address of welcome, spoke eloquently of the year's work. Mrs. Blair gave a resume of the work of the cathedral parish.

Miss O. Pednault, secretary of the Esquimalt Subdivision, presented this report, which showed a splendid active interest in the affairs of the parishes of Esquimalt and Victoria West, now being consolidated into one central parish through the building of the new Queen of Peace Church.

The report of the Cobble Hill subdivision was read by Mrs. T. Porter. The Victoria Junior Subdivision report for the first year of its establishment left little to be desired in enterprise, execution and success.

Mrs. McKenna as convener of education, spoke of the Catholic Women's League National Scholarship which has been won this year for the first time and which carries a four-year course at a Catholic university.

Mrs. J. A. J. McKenna, diocesan voting delegate to the convention at Sudbury, gave a splendid report of the three daily sessions of the four days' convention.

The evening session at 8 o'clock in the K. of C. Hall was a most successful one and addresses were heard from Bishop Murray, Rt. Rev. Monsignor Leternie, the Rev. Father Wood, Rev. Father Evans and Rev. Father Wood, principal of St. Louis College.

Rt. Rev. Monsignor Leternie spoke of the great and powerful influence of women especially upon the youth of the American continent. He paid tribute to the mothers of Victoria, and to the Sisters of St. Ann's Academy who were doing so much in the cause of education.

Rev. Father Wood, put before the meeting his plans and hopes of the new church, Rev. Father Evans spoke of the strength of numbers joined in prayer and in his brief address invited all members of the League to a general communion on December 8, having in mind the project of the new school. Rev. Brother Lawless spoke a few words of acknowledgement of the kindly interest of League members in the boys of St. Louis College.

The object of Mr. Wardle's visit is to determine the best site for the establishment of a national park at sea-level on Vancouver Island. PREMIER ASKS REPORTS ON DEPORTATIONS

Bennett Withholds Comments in London Till Papers on Cases of Women Received

By George Hamilton, Canadian Press

London, Oct. 31.—Premier R. B. Bennett of Canada is awaiting particulars of the reported deportation orders against two Englishwomen who had resided in Canada for sixteen and eighteen years. Until particulars are received the Prime Minister is not considering any action.

The women concerned are Miss Alice Barton, who is believed to be on her way to England, and Mrs. Alice Alenarth, who is now in a Lancashire infirmary. Both lived in Hamilton, Ont. It is pointed out at headquarters of the Canadian delegation to the Imperial Conference, that deportation from Canada of persons born in other countries, who subsequently become public charges on Canadian authorities is regulated by statutory provisions following on request from the provincial authorities concerned.

A third woman involved in the matter, Ellen Naylor of London, Ont., who has been at Montreal for some time, will return to the Ontario Hospital at Woodstock, at the request of the Ontario authorities, pending final disposition of the deportation proceedings.

CONFERRED WITH TRAVEL EXPERTS

George I. Warren Back From Redwood Empire Conference

Exchanges of views on tourist travel that will be of benefit to all cities of the Pacific coast marked the convention of the Redwood Empire Association at Ukiah, reports George I. Warren, Victoria and Island publicity commissioner, who returned to-day from the south.

Mr. Warren was one of the main speakers at the convention and outlined the share Victoria was playing as a member of the Puget Sounders and British Columbians Associated to turn the tide of travel to the Pacific coast. He also took the opportunity to present Vancouver Island's attractions to the delegates. He described Vancouver Island as an empire within itself, with everything that could appeal to the holidaymaker. Mr. Warren also conveyed greetings from Mayor Anscombe and thanked the association for their co-operation with Victoria.

During his visit Mr. Warren was a speaker at a membership meeting of the Grants Pass Chamber of Commerce. He also attended sessions of legislators of counties in the Redwood district and had conference with publicity men of San Diego and San Francisco representing the All Year Round Club of Southern California and the Californians Incorporated.

As a result of the convention it is anticipated that legislation will be brought to prohibit billboards on the Redwood Highway within 50 feet of a curve, crossing or intersection.

Hornsby Will Be Back at Second Base For Chicago

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Rogers Hornsby will be back at second base for the Cubs when the 1931 season opens. The newly-appointed manager of the Cubs, here today to make preparations for the spring training trip, emphatically denied that his active days as a major league player are over. He said he made a mistake in trying to get back into uniform too soon last season, before he had completely recovered from injuries.

"That was a good lesson to me," the Rajah explained. "But I'll be back in there next year. Make no mistake about that."

Hornsby said the Cubs would depart for their camp on Catalina Island, February 12, one week earlier than last year.

CANADIENS SHOW SPEED IN WORKOUT

World Hockey Champs Display Old Form in Season's First Practice

Will Engage in Two Charity Matches Against Providence; Have New Players

Montreal, Oct. 31.—The old battle cry, "Les Canadiens sont la," greeted Montreal Canadiens as they dropped over the boards yesterday to take the ice for the first time since they skated off last time during a world's championship with their belts. More than 2,000 enthusiastic fans cheered the "Fighting Frenchmen" as they breezed through a snappy workout, their initial practice of the year.

As colorful as in the past years, the Canadiens showed that they had lost none of the speed. So brisk was the workout that Manager Cecil Hart decided to hold but one practice daily in future. For that reason, appearing in mid-season form for their first workout, would become stale almost before the season started, prompted Manager Hart to make the move. Maroons, Canada's intransigent rivals, will continue the two practices a day that they started last week.

SEVERAL NEWCOMERS
Besides the old band of Morenz, Joliat, Lepine, Leduc, Hainsworth, Mondou, the Maroons, several newcomers worked out with the team. Johnny Gagnon, Bud Cook, the two Giroux brothers, Palangio, Puse and Lesieur were among the recruits who showed particular promise.

Two exhibition charity games will be played by Canada before the opening of the season, following the example of the Maroons. Providence Reds of the Canadian American League, who are training here, will be the Frenchmen's opponents on November 6 and 7, it was announced yesterday.

The Windsor Bulldogs worked out yesterday morning under Manager Herb Mitchell. The Bulldogs are in fine shape and ready for Saturday's exhibition game against Montreal Maroons.

LOCAL BOXERS TO TOP CARD

Hay, Neel, Drysdale and Keist Compete in Double Main Event Next Thursday Night

Promoter Joe Bayley has decided to give several of the local fighters a chance to compete in the top spot of his promotions and has chosen Wing Hay, Frankie Neel, Tommy Drysdale and Tim Keist for the double main event position on his next fight presentation next Thursday evening at the Variety Theatre.

The game Chinese boxer and Frankie Neel have turned in wonderful exhibitions in the four-round and semi-win ups at the last two promotions and will compete for the third time over the six-round route. In the previous bouts Neel won the decision in the first encounter after a torrid bout, while Wing Hay was awarded the decision in the last bout.

Tommy Drysdale and Tim Keist who will compete in the other main events are expected to put up a great bout. Both boys are clever performers and willing fighters. In their last bout the boys fought a four-round draw.

Three other bouts are being arranged to complete the card. All of the contestants on the programme will work out on Monday and Tuesday evenings at Fitz's Billiard Parlors, corner Yates and Douglas Street, and the public are invited to attend.

SLEEP!

What a serious thing and, alas, how so sadly neglected! Many suffer from nervous exhaustion and pay heavily for its curing. For best results in sleeping it is imperative that the body lies in a normal position without distorting the spine. An Inner-spring Mattress permits the hips and shoulders of sleepers to sink further in than the rest of the body, thus enabling the spine to lie natural. The Inner-spring Mattress is also ventilated—a great improvement to the old felt mattress. Nature demands one-third of life in sleep to do justice to the remaining two-thirds.

Don't forget that your business is dependent on your health. Most of the things you do to-morrow are affected by the way you sleep to-night. If you want to be brighter, stronger, happier and more healthy, then sleep correctly on a

If You Had
Your Married
Life to Live
Over Again

Dorothy Dix

Ask:
"How
Would You
Do It?"

"If you had your married life to live over again, how would you do it?" asked a woman of a group of other married women.

"I'd lie down and kick and scream and howl and cry for what I wanted until I got it," replied one woman. "I shouldn't try to be a helpmate. I would be a plaything and an ornament. I wouldn't try to be noble and self-sacrificing. I would be a spoiled baby that had to be humored and petted and doted up to keep her in a good humor. I wouldn't try to placate my husband. I would keep him busy trying to please me.

"Ever since my wedding day I have been working my fingers to the bone trying to help my husband get along. I have been pinching pennies and nursing him and doing without the things I wanted and smoothing down his ruffled feathers when he was puffed and sunshining around every subject that would rile him, and what is the result?"

"He has it firmly fixed in his mind that I prefer the kitchen to the parlor, and that I would rather cook dinner than go to a party. So he never thinks of doing anything for my amusement because he believes I am having a perfectly hilarious time doing the housework.

"And he thinks there is something peculiar about me, different from other women, that keeps me from desiring pretty, frilly clothes, or jewelry, so he almost has heart failure every time I spend any money that isn't for a new vacuum cleaner or a patent washer. I tell you, a woman can do without things so long that her husband doesn't think that she wants anything, and so if I had to live my married life over again I wouldn't be the family goat. I would be the family wishbone."

"If I had to live my married life over again," said the second woman, "I would make it a comedy instead of a tragedy. I would laugh off about nine-tenths of the things I love which I broke my heart. The great trouble with brides is that they take themselves and their new husbands too seriously, and they make issues out of things that they should have sense enough to ignore.

"I was that kind of a fool young wife. I felt it my sacred duty to correct every one of my husband's faults and weaknesses and lift him up to the higher life. Every time he stayed downtown to play poker with the boys on an evening I had hysterics, and whenever he looked at a good-looking blonde I shed barrels of tears and threatened to go home to mother.

"As a result, I made the poor dear so afraid of me that he spent most of his time making up alibis to hide behind, and we were both miserable, and our home was a place of wretchedness and strife. But if I had to do it all over again I would save us that grief. I would keep myself jolly and good natured, because I have found out that a man will forgive a woman all the seven deadly sins and love her still if she is easy to get along with.

"I would make a funny story about the time he came home lit from a celebration instead of lecturing him about it, and I would tease him about being a shirk among the ladies and having a roving eye, and that would keep him from ever getting serious about any of them because it has been my observation that it is a jealous wife's nagging that, in the end sends a man to some other woman to be comforted.

"It is queer that we women who know so well that we can't drag a man to see a problem play, or induce him to read a sad book, or go to see anybody who is in affliction and who will weep on his shoulder, haven't had enough intelligence to take the tip and realize that if we wanted our husbands to be tireless companions we should have to make evenings at home full of pep and fun, instead of a reformatory where they have to listen to the litany of their sins."

"If I had to live my married life over again," said the third woman, "I would prepare myself for the profession of wifehood as thoroughly as I would for the profession of medicine, or law, or to be an opera singer. I didn't, of course, had the usual female idea that a knowledge of how to cook and keep house and manage a budget was a sort of magic that you acquired at the altar.

"Naturally, no such miracle occurred, and my memory of my first year of married life is a nightmare of meals over which I toiled for hours and that turned out culinary abominations that would have killed an ostrich, and of the caustic remarks that my husband made over dinners of watery soup and burned meat and soggy bread and half-done potatoes. Then I would cry and we would quarrel, but then and there I established in my mind the idea that I was lacking in efficiency and was a poor makeshift of a wife that he has never got over.

"So if I were going to live my married life over again I would go into it knowing as much about my job as my husband did about his, and I would save the honeymoon from being drowned in bad coffee, and his illusions from being wrecked on adamantine biscuit, and I would keep him eating out of my hand because there would be angel's food in it."

"If I had to live my married life over again," said the fourth woman, "there would be no in-laws cluttering up the scene, and I would gag the first well-meaning relative who undertook to run our affairs for us. Believe me, it is our dear, interfering families who with the best intentions in the world, have nearly wrecked our marriage."

"If I had to live my marriage over again," said the fifth woman, "I would be more a wife and less a mother. I realize now that I sacrificed my husband to my children, and that I gave them so much of my time and thought that I had none left for him, with the result that he became estranged. Now the children are gone and I have lost him, too, and I have nothing."

So said these women. What would you do, madam if you had to live your married life over again?

ADVERTISE IN THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

AT THE THEATRES

JUNE COLLYER IS
AT THE CAPITOL
OPPOSITE COOPER

War-time exploits of the Engineer Corps are effectively reproduced in Gary Cooper's latest starring film, "A Man From Wyoming," which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre, in which the gallant Gary portrays a captain in that famous branch of the A.E.F.

A pontoon bridge 150 feet long and sixteen feet wide was smashed by shell-fire explosions for one of the scenes. The bridge was built over a stream, the outlet of Malibu Lake in California. Dynamite blasts, producing the effect of exploding shells, sent the structure flying into splinters, the force of the explosions throwing huge chunks of timber fifty feet and more into the air. Safety lines were drawn fifty yards around the bridge for the protection of workers while Cooper and his men dared death and possible injury working in the scene.

NEW COMEDY HIT
OPENS TO-MORROW
AT THE COLISEUM

Filled with delicious fun and hilarious nonsense, "The Cuckoos," Radio Pictures' wild riot of waggery, opens to-morrow at the Coliseum Theatre. The show brings the talking screen something entirely new in entertainment.

"The Cuckoos" is not a revue. It is not a musical comedy, although comedy and music hold full sway through the production. The show is a distinct departure from the conventional, offering a well-knit story which serves as a background for the antics of the maddest pair of comies ever to grace the screen—Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, who won picture fame in "Rio Rita."

PERMITS STUDY OF
AFRICAN PYGMIES

One of the least known and most interesting of African tribes are the pygmies who inhabit the Ituri Forest of the Belgian Congo. Despite the fact that these little people—who average in height from fifty to fifty-seven inches—wear sticks through their noses, they are highly intelligent, says Paul L. Hoeffler, noted explorer, who recently returned from an extended trip in the jungle.

Companionate marriage—which is engaging the attention of the civilized world at the present time—has long been practiced among the pygmies. Considering themselves one of the most moral of jungle folk, they have a custom which permits two young people to live together for some months, to ascertain whether or not their affection will endure. If convinced that it will, they are officially married. Hoeffler shows many interesting photographic studies of these pygmies in "Africa Speaks," now at the Dominion Theatre.

Where To Go To-night

As Advertised

ON THE SCREEN
Capitol—"A Man From Wyoming," with Gary Cooper.
Columbia—"The Two Black Crows," with Moran and Mack.
Coliseum—"London Calling," with June Collyer.
Playhouse—"Hell's Island," with Jack Holt.

Crystal Garden—Swimming and Diving.

NEWSPAPER WRITER DID ADAPTATION OF PLAYHOUSE FEATURE

A recent recruit from the field of news gathering to the motion picture writing field is Jo Swerling, who prepared the adaptation and dialogue of "Hell's Island," the Columbia all-talking dramatic feature now showing at the Playhouse Theatre.

Swerling was also responsible for the scenario and dialogue of "Ladies of Leisure," the Columbia production which received universal commendation. Mr. Swerling has served his time on various newspapers in New York, Chicago, Boston, Nova Scotia and as a special correspondent in Russia.

CLEVER CHARACTER ACTOR PLAYS PART IN COLUMBIA FILM

Charles Selton, character actor whose versatility brought him a Paramount contract, plays the role of the sheriff in Moran and Mack's "Two Black Crows," latest comedy feature. "Anybody's War," at the Columbia Theatre all this week.

Selton was the gin-making race-track wise guy in Clara Bow's "The Saturday Night Kid"; the town banker in "Burning Up"; and the wealthy grand-dad in "Let's Go Native," and Jack Oakie's "Law" in "The Social Lion."

"LONDON CALLING" CLOSES TO-NIGHT AT THE COLISEUM

The chief delight in "London Calling" now being shown at Coliseum Theatre, is sure to be Lily Morris. "Talkie" experts are all agreed that she has the perfect "talkie" voice. There is no noise like the changing of gears on the microphone when she records; even her sibilants reproduce clearly, without any backsliding of "r" into "sh." When her shade is singing "May I Always Be the Bridemaid," and "Only a Working Man," the makers of mechanized amusement must feel triumphant. They may argue that as her face can now be seen as plainly from the back row of the gallery as it used to be from the stalls, the public is being better served.

MOVE CONTROL OF THEATRES IN CANADA SET OUT

Houses Still Open For Road Shows; Misrepresentation Charged By Post

Toronto, Oct. 30.—"When the Dominion Government goes into the business of providing news to publications it should set up high standards of accuracy and should avoid comment and comparisons that are the functions of private editors and not of government officials," The Financial Post says editorially. "Some time ago, The Financial Post protested against a government news bulletin which spoke of the low electric light rates in Ottawa and gave entire credit for them to the local hydro-electric power company, entirely ignoring the fact that Ottawa is also served with electricity by a private company. An even more unfair comment has just appeared in the weekly news bulletin just issued from the office of the High Commissioner for Canada in London, apparently for distribution to British newspapers. This statement says:

"An Ottawa announcement of September 23 states that the Government of Canada has appointed a Royal Commission to investigate the alleged motion picture combine under the terms of the Combines Investigation Act. This follows the recent action of the Famous Players (Canadian) Corporation in restricting its theatres throughout Canada to the exhibition of its own films and thus preventing the appearance of British films and British theatrical companies."

"If the Canadian Government sees fit to investigate the Famous Players Canadian Corporation, that is quite a proper function for it to assume under the Combines Investigation Act. Assuming, of course, that the latter's nature of the act is sustained in the present case before the Privy Council. But it is not the function of the government to judge this or any other private corporate before the investigation has been completed."

"The investigation of the company by the government had nothing to do with its attitude towards British films and British stage plays, as the writer of the government bulletin seems to think."

"How unfair the statement is may be judged from the fact that Famous Players theatres have recently shown these British films among others: "High Treason," "Rookery No. 1," "Atlantic," and "Splinters." It has already booked other British films. "For has the company aimed any blow at British theatrical companies. Some time ago it closed its booking agency, which had in the past booked not only British but American road shows, because the agency was unprofitable. At the same time, in response to public demand as shown by box office receipts, it decided to concentrate in certain of its theatres on screen plays rather than stage shows. This move affected Canadian, American and British road shows equally. It did not apply to all theatres under the company's control. Famous Players still has theatres in Canada that are available for British or American stage touring players. Recently, the British production "Mari-gold" sought dates in certain Famous Players theatres in Western Canada and these dates were arranged. It is simply a matter of business and in concentrating on films Famous Players is following precedent in other countries. Recently one of the Statberts stated that there were only seventeen good theatres in the United States available for road shows. In proportion to population, Canada has almost that many now and a good proportion of them are Famous Players theatres."

It's just as dangerous to be too thin as too fat—and there's just one logical way to put on flesh where flesh is needed.

No man wants a prize for being the skinniest man in town—not even a purse of gold.

For years McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets have been helping people who are willing to be helped to gain needed flesh and while doing so gain in vigor, strength and physical attractiveness.

It's a great tonic tablet is McCoy's—small—sugar coated—easy to take. You can get a box of sixty tablets for 60 cents—a fair enough price. Take them for twenty-eight days and if you do not gain at least five pounds get your money back from any drug store anywhere. Just ask for McCoy's. (Advt.)

Splendid gatherings marked last year's festival and it is expected that still larger numbers will be present this year, a cordial invitation being extended to every lover of congregational singing, irrespective of nationality, to come and hear these soul stirring hymns. Many of these tunes are not heard ordinarily, being known only to Welsh people, and are acknowledged to be amongst the best compositions of their kind ever produced.

"Curiosity Calls"

Hallowe'en

You will find the dial telephones easy
to use

THE dial telephone system will come into use in Victoria on Saturday night, Nov. 1, at midnight. If a large number of people call up their friends in order to try out the dial telephones, the amount of telephone traffic will be so much above normal that it will seriously hamper us in getting the new apparatus working smoothly. Therefore we urgently request you not to use the telephone unnecessarily during the three days following the change in the system. The job we have in hand is extremely complicated, and we ask you to help us by refraining from making "curiosity calls."
